PETITE HOME CO.

Our screen-time agreement

Written together, signed by everyone, stuck on the fridge. Rules you agreed on hold up better than rules you announced.

When

On school days, screens are OK from _____ to _____, for about _____ minutes.

On weekends, from _____ to _____, for about _____ minutes.

No screens: at the table, in bedrooms, in the hour before bed, and _____.

What

Apps, shows and games we've agreed on. New ones get asked about first.

_____ _____

_____ _____

_____ _____

_____ _____

Grown-ups too

We'll put our phones down at _____ and keep them out of _____.

When it's hard

If a screen is hard to put down, we'll _____ instead of fighting about it. If the rules get broken, what happens is _____.

Signed

_____

_____ _____

Everyone who uses a screen in this house, kids and grown-ups.

This week's screens

One line per sitting. Not to catch anyone out: a week of honest lines is what makes the next conversation easy.

DAY	WHO	WHAT	MINUTES	FELT LIKE

Instead, this weekend

Three things we'll do that aren't a screen. Pick them together on Friday.

- [ ] _____
- [ ] _____

Five questions worth asking

- [ ] What's the best thing you watched or played this week?
- [ ] Was there anything that made you feel bad, or that you didn't want us to see?
- [ ] What would you do with an extra hour if screens were off?
- [ ] Which rule feels unfair, and what would you change?
- [ ] When do you notice us on our phones too much?

The app keeps the family's chores, plans and dinner on one week both parents see, so the weekend plan sticks.
